

MISE EN PLACE

Ann Michael Henry, founder of Mise En Place, is an explorer at heart. She enjoys helping clients discover what works best for them. Ann Michael has a unique ability to evoke the organizational issues that people struggle with so that a personalized approach can be designed. There is no “one way” to get organized because everyone's life and work styles are different.

By being a good listener and clarifying clients' objectives and goals, she takes her clients on a fun and enlightening journey to becoming organized and productive. Her ultimate reward is seeing her clients reach the "ah ha!" moment—the realization that there is a way to get organized and productive, a way to maintain the momentum, and a way to keep it fun!
